

WILLIAM OWEN MORROW MORROW, William Owen - 76, Halifax, died peacefully on August 16, 2004, in QEII Health Sciences Centre, surrounded by his family. Born in Lunenburg, December 31, 1927, he was the son of the late Clarence and Jean (Smith) Morrow. A graduate of Rothesay Collegiate School and Dalhousie University, Bill was prominently involved in the business community for most of his life. He was a retired CEO of National Sea Products Ltd. (now High Liner Foods Inc.) and was on the Board of Directors of several companies including Chrysler Canada, RBC Mutual Fund and Dover Mills. Bill was also on the Board of the Nova Scotia Research Foundation and the Dalhousie Centre for International Business Studies. He served his community in Halifax as a past chair of the IWK Foundation as well as being an active fundraiser for a variety of charitable organizations. He was a past Commodore and Life Member of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron along with memberships in the Lunenburg Yacht Club, Halifax Club, Ashburn Golf Club, and Halifax Curling Club. An ardent fly fisherman and sailor, Bill had a passion for life which he shared with his family and friends. He is survived by his wife of 52 years, Marita (Hope); sons, David (Monika) and Christopher (Mary); daughter, Gillian; grandchildren, John, Charles, Jamie, Jeff, Stewart, Henry, Hope, Lucy, Zachary, and Nicholas; brother, Jim and sister-in-law Joan Carlson.

Source: The Globe and Mail